“

We all have a kind of hitch when it comes to speak publicly and so did I! I always had an urge to empower the community with more and more information. By joining PlanetSpark and learning through everyday communication classes, I could gain confidence over my communication and presentation skills. As a result of which I could confidently launch my youtube channel "Yash Raj Chopra infotainment channel" and spread my ideas across the world doing away with the hitch I had. Participating into debates offered by PlanetSpark developed my interest into debating. As a result of which I started participating in my school debate events too. PlanetSpark debating forum helped me express my thoughts better in academic work as well.
